SISTERS DIE IN SEA

Misses Cromwell Leap Overboard Returning from France

Bordeaux, Jan. 25.—The Misses Gladys and Dorothy Cromwell, sisters of New York, leaped from the rail of the French steamer La Lorraine as the steamer was in the Gaponne River bound for New York yesterday. Both were drowned. The bodies have not yet been recovered.

Both the young women belonged to the American Red Cross and were returning home. A letter found in their stateroom and addressed to the commanding officer of their Red Cross unit informed him of their intention "to end it all."

The Misses Cromwell spent much time at the front, and friends said they had complained of being tired physically and mentally. The steamer was opposite the Christopher light when the drownings occurred.

The Cromwell sisters were twins, 32 years old. They had been in the service of the Red Cross since February, 1918, most of the time at Chalons-sur-Marne, where they were engaged in canteen work.

INGOMAR—BABY OSBORNE

You have your choice of either being grave or gay while watching "Dolly's Vacation," the latest vehicle of the popular little star, Baby Marie Osborne, which will be shown at the Ingomar Theatre today, for there are serious problembs and heartaches for the grown ups concerned. But, the sympathetic spectators can't long remain serious in the face of the merry-making pranks of the children—Dolly and her comic pickanniny servitor, Sambo.

WANTS BRANDEIS IN ZION

Zionists Think They Can Stand Alone After 25 Years of British Protectorate.

If the plans and ambitions of the recently proclaimed nation of Judea are fulfilled, Louis Brandeis, now Justice of the United States Supreme Court, will be the first of the new rulers of Israel. The dream of the re-nationalization of Palestine which has lived for 2,000 years in the hearts of the Jews is fast entering the realm of reality. Judea is sending its delegates to the Peace Conference. Its existence as a nation has been recognized by the Allies, its declaration of independence has been signed and its diplomats and politicians are already busy molding the future of its institutions.

The history of Palestine's struggle toward renationalization of the Jewish race is comparatively recent. Beginning some 40 years ago with the agitation of a handful of idealists, the movement expanded slowly. Great efforts to repopulate Palestine with Jews drawn from Russia for the most part met with indifferent success. In the face of ridicule and protest from their own race, the Jews of England, the United States, France, Russia and Germany, acting as an intensive minority, pursued their dream.

Lemon groves and farms again began to dot the hillsides beyond Jerusalem. Agriculture, almost wiped out by the Turk, became slowly a chief occupation. Hebrew writers in whom the ancient racial yearning had not become altogether atrophied by contact with the other civilizations began to move toward the land of their fathers. Poets, philosophers, painters, politicians, farmers tailors and hundreds of families from the ghettoes of the world wandered back to the ancient site of Judea and there took up their lives. The University of Jerusalem sprang into being. Other cultural institutions followed—the high school at Jaffa and the artcraft centers throughout Palestine.

But in 1910 the Zionist leaders saw a rival in the field. In the spring Emperor William of Germany arrived in Jerusalem at the head of 10,000 sailors and soldiers. He came as a guest of the Turkish Sultan. He rode through the streets of Jerusalem in the make-up of a crusader. The Jews in Jerusalem read beneath the pomp and strut of the occasion the Kaiser's ambition to possess himself of the East and Far East. With German Kultur in control the Zionists felt that their dreams would never come true.

There followed a period of suave maneuvering by subsidized German Jews to oust the Hebrew language and the Hebrew ideals from the Palestine institutions and substitute the German. The Emperor's figure, sculptured as a crusader, was erected in the German sanitarium at Jerusalem. This sanitarium was later found to be a German secret arsenal and fortress prepared in the advent of any treachery on the part of the Turk.

In 1912 the German Zionists sought to establish German as the school language. A strike by some 10,000 Jewish children resulted and the idea was given up for the time by Berlin.

REBUILDING WAR MACHINE

Rebuilding the Prussian war machine has been begun, following the radical defeat in the German elections, according to diplomatic advices received in Washington.

The Prussian minister for war will head the whole German army, it is stated, and plans have been worked out between the central government and the central committee of the Councils of Workmen and Soldiers for drilling troops and restoring discipline.

Prestige of officers will be restored, it is declared, but certain rights will be retained by the councils of soldiers. The Prussian minister for war will hold most of the power once wielded by the Kaiser.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY OF VIRGINIA

Concerning the Children's Home Society of Virginia, Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson has the following to say: This is a wonderful organization in Richmond for the placing of orphan children in good homes. So many applications of this nature have been made to me that I am recommending it. Dr. W. J. Maybee, 2605 East Franklyn street, Richmond, Va., may be written to if you desire to place a child or if you desire to secure a child. Hon. John Garland Pollard is president of the society.

WORKING IN HARMONY

Developments in Last Few Days Indicate That Unwritten Anglo-American Alliance is in Effect

Paris, Jan. 25.—It is evident from the developments of the last few days that President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George, of Great Britain, are working in the closest harmony in all the big issues before the Peace Conference, and that the understanding reached in the London conversations was far-reaching.

The willingness of President Wilson to allow Lloyd George to brand the program for a league of nations as his own, when as a matter of fact the practical conception was American indicates the eagerness on the President's part to give his associate prestige here which may be capitalized at home. On the other hand, Britain's ready championship of the President's Russian policy—a championship absolutely necessary for its success—indicates the desire of Lloyd George to reciprocate in every practical way.

It is manifest that jealousies exist between the other Allied Powers, particularly between France and Italy, and Italy and the Balkans, but so far there is not the slightest indication that Britain and America lean in opposite directions. So long as this compact remains in effect it will dominate absolutely the peace proceedings. It was felt a month ago that there was more enthusiasm than fact in the public assurances of the Wilson-Lloyd George agreement on fundamentals, but circumstances in the last few days have removed nearly all doubt and have convinced most observers that the unwritten Anglo-American alliance actually has arrived, promising results of vast import to the whole world.

STRIKE IN PARIS

Subway Lines, Surface Cars and Auto Buses Paralyzed.

Paris, Jan. 25—A general transportation strike was declared in Paris yesterday morning. The subway lines surface cars and automobile buses were affected. The strike apparently was well organized, and not a wheel had turned up to 8.30 o'clock. Police were stationed at the entrance to every subway station.

The population took the matter calmly, even good naturedly, and walked to work. The streets presented an unusually busy appearance for the early hours of the day, and the boulevards looked as if a holiday were in progress. In the meantime the taxicabs reaped a harvest and exacted exorbitant rates.

Despite the inconvenience, no disorders were reported to have occurred anywhere in the city. The subway management, althought it expected to start its trains by noon, had not been able to do so at that hour.

The strike of the automobile bus drivers was decided upon at a meeting Thursday under the presidency of Marcel Cachin, a socialist deputy. The surface car employes deliberated upon the question until 1.30 o'clock yesterday morning, when they finally decided to go out. The subway employes were unable to agree upon a strike until 4.30 o'clock yesterday morning.

NEW YORK TO TAX WATER

All Soft Drinks to Yield Part of Funds Lost With Liquor

Albany, Jan. 25.—Soda water and all forms of soft drinks, including vichy, "pop," ginger ale, sarsaparilla root beer, and even spring water, are to be taxed by the State. So announces Henry M. Sage, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

"How much will the tax yield?" Sage was asked.

"Well," he replied, "the State collects about $23,000,000 annually in excise taxes. I assume that from the tax on non-alcoholic drinks the State should receive about half of that amount."

GRAND THEATRE

Dorothy Dalton, the popular Paramount star, will be seen at the Grand Theatre Monday in "Love Letters," her latest production made under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince. This was written by Shannon Fife, and is a gripping story of the heart-breaking struggles of a woman to retain her husband's affection against overwhelming odds. The cast, including William Conklin and Thurston Hall, is exceptionally well chosen.

On Monday the fourth episode of "The Iron Test" will be shown at the Grand.

MISSING DR. HADLEY

Dr. Hadley Reported in Texas—Detectives Working on Theory That Mrs. Hadley Left Clarke Home in an Automobile.

Richmond, Jan. 25.—Was some deadly poison, little known to medical science, employed in murdering the attractive and talented Mrs. Wilmer Amos Hadley, wife of the missing former Westhampton army surgeon?

Have the post-mortem effects and the fact that the woman's body lay for six weeks submerged or partially submerged in the waters of the James eliminated all trace of this fatal drug, thus destroying legal proof of a crime?

Was the wife dead before she reached the secluded spot where her body was found, or was she lured there through affection for a loved one?

These questions puzzled authorities Friday as they continued a serch extending from Richmond to the Rio Grande for the husband of Mrs. Hadley, who has dropped from sight since December 5, when he received his discharge from Westhampton Hospital, just two weeks after the sudden disappearance of his wife from the home of E. G. Clarke, 2225 West Grace Street where the couple had maintained light housekeeping apartments.

Fear that Dr. Hadley might escape from this country over the border into Mexico was expressed by authorities yesterday.

Information was reported to have been received yesterday through a letter to a nurse at Westhampton Hospital, indicating that the fugitive was located in a small town in Harris County, Tex., near Houston, and less than 200 miles from the Mexican order.

HANGS A WOMAN TO ROB

Masked Burglar Maltreats Her and Gets Away With Money

Charleroi, Pa., Jan. 25.—As Mrs. John Bisenkamp was seated alone in her library reading Wednesday night she was confronted by a masked burglar, who covered her with a revolver. Warning her not to make an outcry, on pain of death, the man gagged and bound her securely and then tied her to a small table. When the woman's husband who is superintendent of a Government dam on the Monongahela River, returned, two hours later, he found her hanging unconscious from the cords which bound her, and with the entire house ransacked.

Bisenkamp recently received several letters threatening himself and his family. The burglar took about $500 in money, jewelry and other valuables.

GUARD ROOSEVELT GRAVE

Souvenir Hunters, Not Scientific Ghouls, Are Feared by Family

Oyster Bay, Jan. 25.—Because there are no employees attached to Young's Memorial Cemetery, where Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is buried, members of the family have secured a guard for duty at the grave for the present at least. This has been done solely to prevent souvenir fiends from doing damage.

The thought that persons might make an effort to secure portions of the Colonel's body for scientific purposes did not enter the minds of the family when the arrangement was made, it was said. Hundreds of persons visit the cemetery daily, and the guard at the grave is simply to protect the plot where the Colonel is buried.

CAPTURED WHISKY LAUNCH

Naval Submarine Chaser Gets Boat With $15,000 Cargo

New Orleans, Jan. 25.—With revenue officers aboard, a naval submarine chaser Wednesday night overhauled and captured the gasoline launch Tim, carrying a cargo of whisky in Mississippi Sound, according to announcement by F. S. Pendleton, Department of Justice representative here. Listening devices and other apparatus aboard the submarine chaser used in detecting undersea craft were employed in locating the launch, it was said, and two shots were fired before the craft was stopped.

The whisky, valued at $15,000, was said to be designed for shipment from New Orleans to Mobile. Wilfred H. Merifed and Louis J. Lallamen were taken from the launch and brought here charged with violating Federal laws.

FORMER EMPEROR SAWS WOOD

Several Menservants Hand Him Logs And Pile up Short Sticks.

Amerongen, Jan. 25.—Sawing wood continues to be the chief occupation of the former German Emperor, who spends several hours each day within the castle grounds working hard while several menservants respectfully hand him logs, and then pile the short sticks in heaps for use later in the furnaces of the castle.

The shortage of coal in Holland compels the burning of wood. William Hohenzollern works so well he is able to furnish the entire consumption of the castle fires.

The former Emperor scarcely ever speaks to his attendants while working.

The two moats which encircle the castle are covered with ice sufficiently thick to bear skaters. The villagers, however, have been given to understand that the accustomed permission to skate in the moats cannot be accorded while he former Emperor is in the castle.

For several weeks nothing has been heard from the former crown prince, who remains virtually alone on the Island of Wieringen.

Several more members of the former Emperor's suite are about to leave for Germany, where, as state servants, they must place themselves at the disposal of the government or forfeit their righ to pensions. Lieutenant General von Estorff, whose wife is an American, will continue to devote himself to the former Emperor.

FIEND STILL AT LARGE

Man Who Attacked Women in Washington Sought by Police

The entire police department of Washington, assisted by military police and several hundred civilians, at 12 o'clock last night were combing the city in search of the supposed maniac who shot two women, one probably fatally, and choked another early yesterday morning. Four suspects were arrested but none was held for the assault.

The victims of the man are:

Miss Martha E. Geagan, 46 years old, of 1312 Connecticut avenue, the first victim of the maniac, was shot in the left side. She is in a sreious condition at the Emergency Hospital.

Miss Lillian Hood, 23 years old, of 1337 L street northwest, who was dragged from her bedroom to a yard 20 feet away, was shot in the abdomen and suffered seven perforations of the intestines. Her condition was improved last night and physicians said that she has a chance to recover.

Miss Florence Fowler, 24 years old, of 1511 L Street, who was attacked an hour after Miss Geagan, was choked but not shot. Her injuries are slight.

DIES OF INFLUENZA

Mrs. James E. Rose Contracts Disease Nursing Sister-in-law Who Also Died Last Tuesday.

Mrs. Mozelle Rose, wife of James E. Rose, died yesterday afternoon at her home on Duke street extended of influenza. Mr. Rose lived in Upperville, Fauquier county, Va., and came here a week ago to nurse her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tacy C. Rose, also a victim of influenza, who died last Tuesday. It was while nursing her sister-in-law that she contracted the disease.

Mrs. Rose was twenty-nine years old and besides her husband she is survived by one child.

The body was shipped today by Demaine and Son, undertakers, to Upperville, Fauquier county, Va., for burial.

RICHMOND THEATRE

A capacity audience last night witnessed "The Kaiser's Finish" at the Richmond. This film will be shown again today and doubtless will again be seen by big crowds.

This extra attraction, heralded as "a pictorial forecast of the day when the Kaiser will find his place in the sun," is said to be sensational for its revelation of heertofore secret facts of the German ruler's private life, one of which involves the discovery, by an American reared youth, about to enlist in the Army of Democracy, that he is barred as a soldier of the United States because of the smirch of dishonor put upon him by the Kaiser. Unable to declare himself as a loyal American, he decides upon a course of action which will revenge his disgrace, and which also permits him to serve the country that has sheltered him since infancy.

RECORD OF DESERTERS

Draft Board Now Engaged in Task—Will Also Include Delinquents—Approximately 400 out of 7,500 Classed as Such.

The local draft board is now busily engaged in the work compiling the records of the 7,500 men from this city and Alexandria who registered in the draft.

Special attention is being given to all delinquents and deserters. It is estimated by members of the board that out of the 7,500 men who registered about 400 are registered as delinquents or deserters. Their records are being sent to Richmond and a duplicate will be kept by the local board.

The local draft board, which has been in existance since July 1917, has been kept busy throughout and the work they are now engaged in will, of course, take considerable time. A special record is to be kept permanently of every man who registered with this board.

DEBT OF THE HAPSBURG

London, Jan. 25.—The total debt of Austria-Hungary last October was 84,000,0000,000 crowns, according to a dispatch from Vienna. Austria's debt was 43,000,000,000 crowns. A commission appointed to investigate the question of German Austria's share of these liabilities, finds that its proportion, assuming that the other states of the former empire pay their share, amounts to 25,000,000,000 crowns.

LISBON TO ROYALISTS

Garrison of Portuguese Capital Goes Over to Monarchists—Manuel Still in London.

Vigo, Spain, Jan. 25.—The greater part of the Lisbon garrison has gone over to the Monarchists, according to reports on the progress of the Portuguese revolution received here from Coimbra in Northern Portugal and other localities. The wireless station near Lisbon is said to be in Royalist hands. The Monarchist movement in Portugal has a foothold at Santarem 45 miles northeast of Lisbon, according to advices received here. Siveramos, which the Lisbon Government has sent to aid in supressing the Monarchist rebellion, joined the Royalists at Santarem.

Madrid, Jan. 25.—The Monarchy has been proclaimed in Lisbon, the Portuguese capital according to a telegram received here from Valencia, on the Portuguese border.

Madrid, Jan. 25.—Former Queen Marie of Portugal, mother of former King Manuel, has arrived here according to the newspapers. She traveled to Spain incognito.

Badajoz, Spain, Jan. 25.—The Monarchist movement apparently is making no headway in South Portugal, contrary to the expectations of the Royalists.

In Northern Portugal, owing to the failure of the troops to suppress the movement, police forces are to be used against the Monarchists. These forces have been started toward the disturbed districts from Southern Portugal.

Paris, Jan. 25.—The Portuguese Navy has remained loyal to the Government, according to all accounts received in Madrid. The Madrid newspapers, however, have advices reporting that the army is on the side of the revolutionists.

London, Jan. 25.—The widely circulated rumor that former King Manuel of Portugal was about to land on Portuguese territory is at least premature. Ex-King Manuel was still in London today.

REMINISCENCE OF LONG AGO.

Fifty years ago yesterday H. H. Wells, military governor of Virginia, appeared before the reconstruction committee of Congress and asserted that loyal men would not be safe in the Old Dominion if all white persons were enfranchised.

It will be remembered that the Underwood Constitution, submitted to the voters of the state in 1869, contained two sections which virtually disfranchised the entire electorate. According to these sections no man who fought in the Confederate army or aided, abetted or sympathized with the late Southern Confederacy could vote or hold office. Wells was the republican candidate for Governor that year

Gilbert C. Walker, a native of Binghamton, N. Y., who had resided some time in Norfolk, being in the banking business, announced himself a republican candidate for Governor also. Among the planks in his platform was one expunging of these sections. The democrats, who had nominated R. E. Withers withdrew their candidate and "picked up" Walker, who was elected by a large majority.

Three years before that event Wells, who was a lawyer by profession, volunteered to act as counsel for a number of Alexandrians, who, it was alleged, had precipitated the riots on Christmas Day in 1865, during which a negro was killed. Some of the accused were sent to Fort Warren, but they were soon released, and the man who was charged with killing the negro was virtually allowed to make his escape.

A FIEND AT LARGE

The murderous attack upon three women in their homes in Washington yesterday morning has naturally caused great excitement in that city. The assailant, believed to be a maniac, is still at large, although the city police, military police and detectives are combing every section in and around the city in attempts to identify him. A reward has been offered for the apprehension of the fiend.

The occurrences caused some uneasiness in Alexandria also, and extra precautions, including the time-honored custom of looking under beds, were in evidence last night.

Long before the days of "Jack the Ripper" a number of coldblooded murders were committed in London, women generally having been the victims. The assassin used a dirk and a hammer. After having inflicted a mortal wound with his dirk he beat out the brains of the objects of his wrath with the hammer.

The account of these atrocities, published in the Newgate Calendar" shows that the murderer remained at large a long time before he was eventually arrested and made to pay the penalty exacted by the law. The fiend did not appear to be demented, but seemed to have had a propensity for shedding human blood.

ANOTHER "SICK MAN."

The decision of the Supreme Council of the Allied powers in regard to Russia will, it is thought, be generally accepted as the wisest course that could have been adopted in the circumstances. As is suggested by a contemporary, Russia has really become, in one sense, the center of the whole peace question, and any peace question, and any peace which ignored conditions there would have failed to touch the heart of European unrest. The Sick Man of Europe is no longer Turkey, but the old empire of the Czars, and its sickness is so contagious that it will infect other countries, if it is not cured.

This fact has been appreciated even by the most thoughtless for many months, and it is now formally recognized by the action of the Supreme Council at Paris. The plan presented by President Wilson and finally adopted by the council is a modification of the suggestion made some time ago by the British Government and denounced with so much vehemence by the French Minister of War. The invitation to the representatives of all the Russian factions to meet representatives of the associated powers at Princes Islands, in the Sea of Marmora, qualified as it is by certain fundamental conditions, removes most of the objections which were urged against the British proposal. This invitation is based primarily and absolutely on a complete armistice in Russia, the cessation of all hostilities within and of all attacks upon countries beyond the Russian boundaries. In a word, Russia is given an opportunity to make peace with herself and with the outside world.

There is to be no compromise with the creed of Bolshevism, and no condonation of its brutalities and crimes. Its existence as a Russian fact is recognized, just as a doctor might recognize the existence of a high temperature and a contagious disease in a patient.

MONEY FOR DRAFT BOARDS

Some people do not care how they spend other people's money says an exchange. "Witness, for instance, the reported passage of a resolution introduced by Senator Vare urging the United States Congress to pass a bill granting army commissions and medals to members of draft boards. The bill carries an appropriation of $500,000. Draft board members who accepted the pay offered them by the Government were well paid for the work they did. Some of them were overpaid, considering that most of their work was done by draft board clerks, the latter being as well paid as most clerks in other jobs, and better paid than clerks in some other jobs. The draft board members who accepted no pay made less sacrifice than any of the boys who were drafted, and most of this class of whom we have any knowledge are not clamoring for commission or medals.

"The disposition of some people—entirely too many, we fear—to regard the public treasury as an easy mark is going to add to the troubles of readjustment in this country. It was necessary to spend, and much waste was avoidable while we were at war, but we had better arrange to pay our war debts now, and we will have need for all of the public millions that some people seem to think are of no use except to pay for medals and other equally useless fixings."

GERMAN HONOR

The German nation is going through a hard school in learning the rules of honor says the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

"Marshal Foch, the schoolmaster, is giving the Boches monthly lessons on how a nation must keep its promises. In other words, each time it has become necessary for the allies to renew the armistice. Foch has brought to the attention of the Germans the various prior conditions of the armistice which they have failed to meet. By way of punishment he has imposed each time new and harsher conditions.

"It is the only way. There is no other method by which Germany can be made to learn. Not being capable of appreciating honesty for honesty's sake, it must be taught that honesty is the safest course, and that only by keeping its word can it escape punishment. There was a time when a trusting world accepted the German nation on a footing of equality. Its word was accepted as its bond. But that was before its government arrogantly declared that it regarded its pledged obligations in respect to Belgium merely as a scrap of paper. It was before the German government, after solemnly pledging its word to the United States to abolish inhuman submarine warfare, cast this promise overboard, an, amid the plaudits of its followers, forced the United States into the war. Throughout the war, Germany, without protest from the rank and file of its people, violated eevry covenant which Germany had sworn to uphold in support of civilized methods of warfare. If there is any national conscience in Germany that abhors the code of the Hohenzollerns, it has not yet manifested itself ot a degree that is convincing.

"A long and arduous pathway lies ahead of the international outcast, and the sooner Germany learns to keep its pledges to Foch the sooner will it be on its way to redemption."

JAPS ASK EQUALITY

Exclusion of Yellow Peoples by Western Nations Irritates Mikado's Subjects.

Tokyo, Jan. 25.—The race question will probably be one of the biggest questions at the Peace Conference.

Settling it right may not have much to do with cleaning up the mess of the war just past, but it will have everything in the world to do with preventing an even more horrible war in the future.

Public sentiment in Japan favoring a demand by the Japanese delegates to Paris in behalf of China as well as Japan, that present laws whereby Western nations exclude Mongolians be abandoned, is growing almost overwhelming. Publicists and scholars join in urging drastic action on the Government.

The Japanese view is this: A true league of nations and new brotherhood of civilization demand that all discrimination against the yellow races cease. The bars against land ownership as well as citizenship must be let down, to make such a league in fact what it pretends to be in theory.

A league of white nations for the exploitation of the yellow races would not be a true league, and would preserve peace only until the yellow nations were able to force equality.

The minority who believe Japan should be more modest at the Peace Conference point out that Japan also refuses foreign permission to own land, and excludes Chinese labor.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Mrs. Clara Hakson, 35, shot and killed her five children at their home in Sherman, near Sioux Falls, S. Dak., and fired a bullet into her own head in an attempt at suicide.

"The German army, including sick and wounded, now numbers approximately 1,000,000," War Minister Reinhardt declared in an interview in Berlin yesterday.

Three men were killed and one seriously injured at Katy Lake, near Rockwall, Texas, yesterday afternoon, when their automobile was struck by a train at a grade crossing.

The mutilated body of Rosa Luxemburg, who was lynched by a mob in the streets of Berlin a week ago, has been found in the Landwehr Canal, according to a Berlin dispatch. Already the Spartacans are planning a monster demonstration to coincide with the funeral of their woman leader.

The entire Bolshevist army on the Narva front, numbering 60,000, has joined the Esthonians, according to dispatches from Helsingfors. A dispatch from Copenhagen quoting advices from Helsingfors said the Bolshevik army is evacuating Petrograd and that War Minister Trotsky had moved his headquarters to Nijni-Novgorod.

To solve the problem of unemployed soldiers the War Department has ordered that no man be discharged from the army against his desire until such time as he can obtain employment in civil life. It was announced yesterday that orders had been telegraphed to all department and division commanders at Secretary Baker's direction to retain all men who desire to remain temporarily in the service, without prejudice to their subsequent discharge to take employment.

The Irish unionists alliance, at a meeting yesterday in Dublin, overwhelmingly defeated a motion proposing that should any scheme for the future government of Ireland involve the exclusion of any part of the country only those members of the alliance representing the included areas should be competent to decide the actions of the alliance. Lord Middleton's supporters favored the plan. Lord Middleton resigned from the presidency of the alliance as a result of the defeat. The Carsonites defeated the motion.

The bill appropriating $100,000,000 to furnish food supplies to starving populations of Europe, was passed by the Senate late yesterday, 53 to 18. Thirty-four Democrats and nineteen Republicans voted for it, and three Democrats and fifteen Republicans against it. Messrs. Martin and Swanson voted with the majority. The bill has passed the House and as soon as it has been signed by Speaker Clark and Vice President Marshall, it will be dispatched to the President in Paris for his signature.

American and English mining men at the Santa Sulalia, fifteen miles southeast of Chihuahua City, were warned to keep clear of Mexican politics, under the penalty of attack by Franciso Villa, when his headquarters band raided that town Wednesday, according to advices received at El Pase. Villa made no demands for money or food upon the foreign mining concerns but took supplies in town. A telegram from W. J. Deavitt, manager of the American Smelting and Refining Company's plant there, said foreigners were safe and the mines operating. One American mining operator says that Villa goes when and where he pleases and by fast riding escapes pursuit of federal troops.

MANY JEWS PERISH

Three Thousand Said to Have Been Killed in Lemburg.

New York, Jan. 25.—Charges that the Polish press is withholding facts concerning the anti-Jewish outbreak in Lemberg, in which hundreds of Jews perished, were contained in a cablegram received here by the Jewish Daily Forward from Abraham Caban, editor of that paper, who is in Persia.

In the cable Caban alleges that he has learned from an eye-witness that 100 Jews were killed outright, 26 were burned to death, and that the total victims numbered 3,000.

FAVOR BONUS OF $360.

Senator Curtis Among Those Who Would Meet Plea of U. S. Employes.

Sentiment among members of the Senate appropriations committee is growing in favor of the $360 a year bonus for government employes asked by the National Federation of Federal Employes rather than the $240 voted by the House in the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Senator Curtis, of Kansas, is among those who believe that, in view of the high cost of living and the low salaries, government employes should have the $360 bonus. The National Federation of Federal Employes, which is to be given a hearing by the Senate appropriations committee, yesterday issued a bulletin setting forth the following three amendments which they will seek to have incorporated in the pending legislative bill:

One will call for a general salary increase of $1 a day, or $360 per year instead of the 240 voted by the House.

Another will provide for the inclusion in the increase of the war risk bureau and all the permanent government bureaus.

The third will provide for a commission on standardization and reclassification of the entire civil service.

The federation also wants a commission which would be organized on the principle of collective bargaining, and would consist of three representatives of the executive managemnt of the civil service, three representatives of the employes and three representatives of the public, all to be appointed by the President. It is stipulated, moreover, that women shall be represented on the commission, and that the employers' representatives shall be nominated by collective action of the employes under such regulations as the President shall prescribe. The measure is offered as a substitute for the provision reported by the House appropriations committee which called for a joint commission of five members from each house of Congress, to be appointed by the Speaker and the Vice President.

SEEKS TO REGAIN THRONE

Manuel on Ship off Coast Waiting for Favorable Turn in Revolution to Restore Him.

Paris, Jan. 25.—Former King Manuel, of Portugal, is at present on board a steamship off Lisbon, according to a dispatch from Madrid, The Matin says that Manuel has left London for an unknown destination.

The Monarchist movement in Portugal, according to advices received here, appears to be making progress. A Monarchist proclamation was read at Valenca-do-Minho in the presence of the garrison. The Republican flag was then torn down and burned and the Monarchist flag hoisted in its place.

London, Jan. 25.—The Evening News says it learns from authoritative Portuguese sources that former King Manuel is ready to return to Portugal whenever the people wish him to return.

A semi-official statement received today from Lisbon says: "Tamagnini Barbosa, the Premier and Minister of War, who is ill, has been replaced by General Hipolite, commander of the Coimbra force."

TOLD IN ALEXANDRIA.

A Resident Known to all Our Readers Relates an Experience.

Readers of the Gazette have been told again and again of the merits of that reliable, time-proved kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. The experiences told are not those of unknown persons, living far away. The cases are Alexandria cases, told by Alexandria People.

William L. Nalls, 534 S. Patrick St., Alexandria, says: "My back ached all the time and the pains through my loins were so severe I thought they would kill me. My kidneys caused me a lot of annoyance. Nothing did me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at C. W. Summer's Drug Store. A few doses relieved the misery in my back. I used three boxes and they put my kidneys in good condition and my back has'nt caused me any trouble since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Nalls had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

GET "ROYAL" BURGLAR

New York Police Nab Thief Who Claims to be of the Spanish Nobility.

New York, Jan. 24.—Mannon de Mais, 29 years old, who says he is of Spanish royal descent, and for whom the police have been searching for some time, was arrested as he was about to enter an apartment house on Riverside Drive. He was locked up on a charge of burglary.

De Mais, the detectives say, was a confederate of Charles Engel, who was arrested after leaving a pawnshop at Columbus avenue, and One Hundred street on Wednesday. Engel was held in $10,000 bail for alleged burglaries.

De Mais, the police say, admitted having committed burglaries and said that he bought foodstuffs with the proceeds and would give them to the poor of the East Side.

The automobile which De Mais was driving was stolen from Samuel Bader a broker, last November, according to the police. De Mais had shipped his trunk to the Continental Hotel, in Newark, N. J., following Engel's arrest. The New York police went to that hotel and found inside the trunk $10,000 worth of loot, they say. There were several diamond scarfpins and silver mesh bags, and in addition two revolvers.

According to the police, De Mais and Engel had committed more than 100 burglaries. Their method of operation was to call at an apartment house under the pretext of tracing lost Christmas packages from department stores, and when they got no response to their ringing, to "jimmy" the door. They would drive up to the house in their automobile. They had a negro chauffeur for some time, who was unaware of what they were really doing, the police say, and when the negro became suspicious he was discharged.

De Mais was faultlessly attired and wore a two and one-half carat diamond ring when arrested.

BOMB IN A MILK BOTTLE

Planter of Dangerous Explosive Arrested in Boston.

Boston, Jan. 24.—A milk bottle "bomb" was found Wednesday in a doorway at the plant of E. D. Abbott & Co., printers, in the Back Bay district. State Chemist Walter Wedger said the bottle contained a highly incendiary combination.

After arresting Peter A. Bailey, the police seized in his room a quantity of powder and other ingredients similar to those in the bottle.

Bailey, who was an employee of the Abbott Company, told the police that he had been experimenting with bombs with a view to improving their war efficiency. He was sent to the Psychopathic Hospital for observation.

WARRANT FOR CASHIER

Bank Officer of Bainbridge, Ga., Missing, and Accounts Show $20,000 Shortage.

Bainbridge, Ga., Jan. 24.—Search is being made for R. R. Davis, cashier of the Citizens' Bank, of Iron City, Ga., a State institution, which is reported $20,000 short.

A warrant for the arrest of the cashier has been sworn out. The bank of Donaldsonville has taken over the affairs of the Citizens' Bank, and it is said depositors are not expected to suffer loss.

Davis left shortly after a bank examiner appeared in a nearby town.

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still

VIRGINIA NEWS

Discovery of a comparatively new wheat disease in fourteen wheat-growing counties of Virginia is causing much alarm among farmers of the western section of the State. The new disease is known as nemto do galls. Traces of the infection have been found in California, according to the Virginia State agricultural department, but in Virginia the disease has assumed more dangerous proportions, having been found in 10 per cent of the samples taken from last year's wheat seed.

James Connor, said to be the oldest Red Man in the State, and one of the oldest Masons in the country, died at his home in Portsmouth yesterday morning. Mr. Connor was a native of Scotland and was born in December, 1822. He had been a resident of Portsmouth for 70 years. Mr. Connor was one of the best known members of fraternal orders in the State. Despite his advanced age, he kept in close touch with the organizations of which he was a member, and was active for his age.

Following months of experiments with cotton fibers and other by products secured in the production of explosives, the E. I. Du Pont de Nomaurs Company has started utilizing these materials in the manufacture of paper, it is announced. It was learned that a portion of the Hopewell plant, which was one of the largest powdermaking plants during the war, has been refitted as a laboratory for the experiments. It is hinted that the entire plant in time may be used as a paper mill.

A. H. Light, commonwealth's attorney for Campbell county, has issued a statement to quit rumors to the effect that Miss Rosa Farmer was not murdered, but died from natural causes. Mabon T. Wright was acquitted, upon second trial, of her murder and the murderer will probably never suffer for the crime, but there is no doubt from the evidence in the case that the girl was murdered. Wright is still in jail in Lynchburg waiting the pleasure of the army authorities, as he is absent without leave from the proving grounds at Aberdeen, Md.

UNREST IN LABOR CIRCLES

Attempt, it is Said, to Revolutionize Conditions in England.

London, Jan. 25.—Serious strikes and threats of more serious ones in England over disputes which ordinarily would be considered unimportant have led some students of British labor conditions to the belief that the demands are made, not in an effort to better conditions, but in an attempt to revolutionize the whole condition of labor employment.

The strike of the 147,000 Yorkshire coal miners, who quit work Thursday when the owners refused to meet their demands, was settled later by the Coal Controller, who agreed to concede the 20 minutes "dead time" for meals while the mines are under Government control. The men were to resume work yesterday.

Stoppage of work in the great shipbuilding industry on the Clyde is threatened over a meal hour dispute. Under the old 54 hour week the men went to work with empty stomachs. They worked two hours and then had an hour for breakfast. Under the new 47 hour plan, which has been agreed to, no time is allowed for breakfast and work is to start at 7 o'clock. The discontent is said to be caused by the women, who do not arise in time to prepare an early breakfast.

In the shipbuilding union is an active minority which demands a 30 hour week. A number of responsible labor leaders have declared they are not in sympathy with continued trivial demands, and they are represented as being supported by the more conservative members.

"These extremists are a small minority, but are exceedingly active. They are in revolt not only against capitalism, but also against the union leaders."

The National Federation of General Workers, representing nearly a million men and women, at a meeting Thursday resolved to demand a 40 hour working week.

At a conference of representatives of the employers and the engineering trade Thursday an agreement was reached by which the men will resume work on the understanding that the conference next week will discuss the grievances of the men. The engineers' agreement includes the engineers, shipbuildings and affiliated trades, and brings into operation a 47 hour week. Other details will be arranged at the coming conference.

SAW TURKS KILL 30,000

Mother, Father and Brothers And Sisters Bayoneted or Hanged.

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—The eyes of 22-year-old Azniv Michitaria are sad despite her youth, despite her recent marriage to her lover and rescuer Simon Kermoian.

For this young bride's eyes looked upon the massacre of 30,000 souls, killed by the Turks in Bitlis, Armenia.

Azniv's eyes will be sad through all her days to come.

Through a shaded window she saw her playmates and chums, all the girls of the city, fleeing with shrieks before the Turkish bayonets, driven into a field, given over to the whim of the soldiers, then slain.

She saw old men and adult women—10,000 of them—as they marched to the Canyon of Death, where all were beheaded at night by Turkish swords.

She saw soft limbed babies and struggling children hurled into the town hall to perish by cremation.

She saw her young husband, whose trade as a miller had protected their home, stagger through the doorway to gasp that he had found his father's corpse still bleeding in the front yard, two brothers hanged to a nearby tree, a 4-year-old sister dead with a bayonet through her small body, and the shapeless form of an older sister—"Oh, she was a beautiful girl," sobbed Azniv—huddled with crushed skull beneath a bedroom window, whence she had leaped to death and honor.

Within the house he had encountered Turks in his mother's room; she lay groaning; as he gazed unseen, her baby was born. A Turk instantly impaled it on his sword and dashed it against the wall; with the hilt he crushed the mother's skull.

Azniv looked into her husband's eyes as he told these things.

In the morning she gazed upon his sunken face where he lay dead of grief.

Too desperate for fear, she ran to her father's house. Rolling to and fro in agony upon the floor, she saw her 16-year-old brother whom she herself had disguised the day before in a woman's gown. The gown was torn from his limbs, which was masses of blood.

"Oh, my little brother, what has happened?" she cried.

"My sister, get me some water," moaned the boy. When she came with the water he was lying still.

Beside him lay her mother's body mutilated. Soldiers had trampled her to death.

Azniv's eyes looked upon these things. The Turks were away in the Canyon of Death, murdering the elders. She hid in a dark cellar with her aunt and 37 other refugees—for seven weeks.

Then the Armenian soldiers returned. Among them was Kermoian, whom she knew. His sister, to escape the fate of others, had leaped from a cliff into the Tigris.

Azniv and Kermoian fled together, crossing Siberia by train.

Now, wedded, they are in San Francisco, where Kermoian's uncle, has a downtown flower stand full of bright blossoms.

But Azniv's eyes see only the pitiful bodies of her people in the dead city of Bitlis.

NEW TERROR REIGN

Crimes Act Proclaimed in Tipperary After Stealing of Whole Cartload of Explosives.

Dublin, Jan. 24.—The Sinn Fein Parliament provided only a one-day sensation. Its members held a brief meeting at the Mansion House Wednesday afternoon, but behind closed doors. Afterward Count Plunkett told reporters that a statement of the business transacted would be furnished to the press later, thus following the precedent of the Paris conference.

A group of 100 young men gathered outside during the secret session, but no excitement of any kind was shown. The public was far more interested in the murder of two policemen in Tipperary at the time the Parliament was meeting. This is taken to signify the beginning of a new period of terrorism which veteran Irish politicians expect will include other assassinations and attempts to destroy Government buildings and public works.

The extremists are exceedingly anxious to get explosives. Two policemen were guarding a cartload of gelignite which was being taken to a mine, when they were surrounded by masked men. The policemen were shot dead and the explosives carried off. The immediate sequel was a proclamation placing Tipperary under the Crimes Act, which means a regime much like that the occupied German cities are undergoing.

All meetings are prohibited and nobody can pass in or out of the district without permits. None of the residents may be outdoors after 7 o'clock in the evening without a permit. No letters may pass in or out without censorship Enough troops were quickly sent into the district to enforce these regulations.

The Clare district was recently proclaimed under the Crimes Act, and the measure was enforced with apparent success.

SEES BOLSHEVIK PLOT

Military Intelligence Officer Says Revolt is Being Formulated.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Archibald Stevenson, of the Military Intelligence, testified yesterday before the Senate Propaganda Investigating Committee that John Reed, an American citizen, who, he said, was consul-general at New York for the Russian Soviet Government, was disseminating Bolshevik propaganda and that money had been sent from Russia and other sources. The witness named Albert Rhys Williams of New York, as another Bolshevik agent.

In industrial centers the Bolsheviki have organized Soviets, each center having its own Soviet organization Mr. Stevenson said.

"The plan is," he said, "to extend their influence until they can take hold of the Government."

"Do they plan to over turn this Government?" asked Chairman Overman.

"Exactly," he replied.

HOLD PIZARRO MUMMY

Lima Museum Contains Most Wonderful Collection of Relics of Bygone Days.

Lima is both the commercial and the political capital of Peru.

If the strikes which are now tying up commerce have political significance, it will be quickly felt, and if revolution is to grow out of them, Lima will feel the undivided force of the explosion.

Callo, which is Peru's chief port, is but eight miles from Lima and the headquarters of a large portion of Lima's business men. It is indeed, the "downtown" district of Lima. More than 1,500 vessels enter and clear at this port in a year.

Callao's docking fatilities are the best on the west coast of South America. Both steam and electric lines and an excellent automobile road connect it with Lima. Callao had a population of 35,000 largely industrial, and Lima houses 200,000 people.

The capital was laid out by Pizarro who gave it the name of the City of Kings, but the native title, Lima, has become the popular one—a corruption of Rimac, the river which flows through it.

The adventurous Spanish explorer who laid out the city nearly 400 years ago, after the Spanish idea, provided numerous plazas and open spaces which, in troublous times, form gathering places for the troublemakers and have been the rallying point for many a sortie.

Within the walls of the Cathedral of Lima lies the shriveled but well preserved mummy of Pizarro, who not only founded the city, but laid the foundation for the edifice which covers his remains.

It is near to the site of the house in which the explorer received his death blow from the dagger of an assasin.

The Plaza Mayor is the center of activity in Lima. Beautified with flowers and foliage and in the very heart of the city with street car lines radiating from it, it furnishes a gathering place for the populace. People with leisure sit on its benches to read their papers. Band concerts are given in the evenings and it is the center for celebration of all public events.

The National Museum of Peru possesses the most wonderful collection outside that of Cairo, Egypt, of relics of bygone races, for Peru is the home of a very ancient civilization.

NO PLACE FOR BOLSHEVIKI

Union Workmen in Camden, N. J., Put Agitator Hors de Combat.

Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—After attempting to dispose of books entitled 'The Bolsheviks and the Soviets," in Camden, James S. Landers, 33 years old, claiming Philadelphia, as his residence, was held for action by the Department of Justice. Landers had a stormy time of it in Camden. When he appeared at a meeting of union men Tuesday night he was attacked by the unionists because he was selling Bolshevik literature and so badly beaten that he had to be taken to Cooper Hospital.

Landers' right eye is badly injured, as though he had been kicked. He was placed under arrest as he was having his wounds dressed and instead of being charged with disorderly conduct officials decided to turn him over to the Government for investigation.

JAMES RIVER MYSTERY

Police Search for Husband of Drowned Woman Recently at West Hampton.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 24.—Henrico county authorities are searching for Dr. Wilmer A. Hadley, formerly stationed at the government hospital in West Hampton, a warrant having been issued charging him with the murder of his wife. The authorities, it is said, are proceeding on the assumption that the body of the young woman found in the James River near here several weeks ago was that of Mrs. Hadley.

Galveston, Tex. Jan. 24.—Dr. Wilmer A. Hadley was graduated from the medical branch of the University of Texas here in June, 1911. He was married on October 16, 1913, to Miss Sue Kathleen Kinsley, who was well known locally as a singer and an instructor in voice. They lived for a short time in this county and the last heard of them was that Dr Hadley was at Fort Oglethorpe. Ga.

GIRL BELL-HOPS DOOMED

Chicago, Jan. 25.—The Gideon Association today began a campaign to replace girl bell hops with boys. A. B. T. Moore, national secretary, wrote the Hotel Men's Protective Association on thta subjec.

"Girls are greatly exposed in the hotel atmosphere," Moore said. "Wartime necessity for their employment has now passed."

Chicago hotels today had supplanted the girls with boy dime catchers.
